Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a vehicle control device and method for determining whether or not a given person has completed a safety driving maneuver. 2. Description of the Related Art In recent years, in order to determine whether or not a given person has conducted a safety driving maneuver or if a safety driving maneuver has been conducted safely, there has been proposed a technique for verifying that the safety driving maneuver has actually been completed and for determining whether or not the given person has completed the safety driving maneuver. For example, Japanese Unexamined Patent Publication No. 8-247037 (corresponding to U.S. Pat. No. 5,526,938) proposes a technique which determines whether or not a motor vehicle with which a given person conducts a safety driving maneuver has crossed an intersection on a turn signal beeping line. However, the technique is only for verifying whether or not a motor vehicle with which the given person has conducted the safety driving maneuver has actually crossed the intersection. Japanese Unexamined Patent Publication No. 2007-209980 (corresponding to US2007/0150840) proposes a technique which determines whether or not a given person has completed a safety driving maneuver. However, the technique determines whether or not the given person has conducted the safety driving maneuver in accordance with the type of a motor vehicle which has been stopped for a predetermined time. Incidentally, there is the possibility that when

----- With this software you can eject your CD/DVD or CD-RW drive directly from your keyboard. CD Ejecting in the community: ----- Please read the first post and we have a new OP to this question. All the best. A: Easy but dead simple: Insert the disk Right click on it Navigate to options Look for the Disk Access tab Open the edit menu and select 'always open in same external drive'. Done! I've been using it for the last few months with no problems. Q: Использование в качестве аргументов метода по умолчанию На данный момент очень плачевал, как вообще использовать в качестве аргументов метод по умолчанию абстрактный класс. Например: public class A { public void foo(A a) { ... } } или вот так: public class A { public void foo(T a) { ... } } Поясно, что собственно проблема в том, что стоит написать подобное в моем
