Q: What is the name of the game who wants the second best possible outcome? You are given the set  $\{1, 2, \dots, n\}$  and have to choose the outcome that is as good as possible. What is the name of this game, in terms of mathematics? A: Its a type of matching, called Matched Partner Problem. Matched Partner Problem Matched Partner Problem is a matching problem, in which items have to be paired to yield the maximal satisfaction. The problem is to build a matching for a set of people  $S = [s_1, s_2, \dots, s_n]$ , such that there will be exactly  $k$  matches, so that the resulting matching is the best possible among all possible ways of making  $k$  matches.

Q: How can I set a default path for videos I want to download in libreoffice? My current path is set to `/home/user/Downloads`. I save my video files in `/home/user/Archive` and use Youtube-dl to download these videos. However, if I want to download these videos in libreoffice, how can I set a default path for videos I want to download in libreoffice? A: The following file manager can be a solution: The default setting for videos will be stored in your `~/.config/mplayer/mplayerrc` file, here:

URL_Videos='youtube://www.youtube.com/watch?v=AVQE39W4Uw8' Reference: mplayerrc file You can move this file from the default folder mplayer used to `~/.config/mplayer/mplayerrc`, in order to set it as the default, in case you do not have this folder, just copy the default folder to this folder and change the path. I can't say it is the perfect solution because I do not remember if you can set your default folder (but I think so). Note that libreoffice has some issues when opening.m

I'm trying to write a Windows program using Visual C++ 2005. However, I'm having some problems because Visual C++ 2005 is apparently not shipping with the right sort of headers (I get a dependency error). Is there any way I can check what headers and libraries I've got? It seems like I should be able to find this out by accessing the registry, but I'm not sure where this should be stored and I'm not sure how to look it up. Thanks. A: Registry key name is "C:\Program Files\Microsoft Visual Studio 10.0\VC\atlmfc\include\atlmfc". Also look at any macros defined. You should be able to find them in the makefile.
