

. Childhood temporal lobe epilepsy: a neuropsychological review. There is growing evidence that children with temporal lobe epilepsy have cognitive deficits that are similar to those observed in adults. This review summarizes the available evidence on the cognitive neuropsychology of children with temporal lobe epilepsy. Cognitive deficits have been observed in a variety of domains (memory, learning, attention, social cognition, etc.) and may be present in the absence of other cognitive problems or behavioral problems. Although current research suggests that children with epilepsy may have cognitive impairments that are similar to those of adults with epilepsy, the evidence on this issue is largely from small non-controlled studies. To develop and evaluate effective treatments for children with temporal lobe epilepsy, further research is needed on the cognitive effects of epilepsy, particularly in the pediatric age group. Q: Corrupted or malicious link in a linked question Some question I was just reading, have a link to a image in the title. Here is the link: Link It has the following description, see below screenshot: So according to the description, the link is: My problem is that if I follow the link, it shows me the following screen, with the following error: File Not Found - File Not Found - File Not Found - So it seems the link is corrupted or malicious. Do you think it is possible for someone to post a malicious link into a question? A: I've found a solution. It seems the question was deleted too quickly. A deleted question can be recovered with Data.SE, see the following example: Or one can use this SEDE query, more info at SEDE Delete deleted questions.
