

"This is the perfect opportunity to listen to the fans' opinions and really focus on their gameplay moments," said David Rutter, Executive Producer at EA SPORTS. "It's only with the feedback from fans around the world that we're able to work on the gameplay that makes the real-life feeling so immersive." FIFA 20 introduced an "Agent in the Box," a digital analysis tool that provided real-time feedback of the challenge being played as the game develops. Players can now watch their agent conduct tactical simulations, helping them hone their strengths and weaknesses. The tool is designed to help gamers craft their perfect FIFA and Player experience. With over 120 real-life Pro Players, Fifa 22 Free Download will allow players to shape their play style and work on mechanics that they can apply in match situations. "I can't wait to get my hands on the new game," said Andrija Novakovich, FIFA 22 Lead Gameplay Designer. "We've done a great job on the previous titles, but this is the first time players will be able to see how their game truly plays and could change their mind about their perfect FIFA." Features available at launch: "Agent in the Box" The "Agent in the Box" feature shows gamers in-game player feedback from the tactical simulations of more than 120 real-world professional footballers. The real-time feedback from the simulations will allow gamers to hear and see whether they are using their attributes in the most effective way. Players can hear the advice their agent gives them on the tactics that best suit their ability, and see how well their attributes are honed. "My Decision Moment" The "My Decision Moment" feature allows players to record a "My Decision" commentary track for online matches. The video can be uploaded to FIFA Ultimate Team and can be shared across social media, and can be watched in-game and on the official FIFA YouTube channel. The "My Decision Moment" feature can be viewed once a user has recorded a new game and are in the middle of a game. Once recorded, "My Decision Moments" can be played back in-game from the Moment Menu within in-game Match Preview. "Speed Genius" The "
